BANT AGM 2024 plus Q&A - Thursday 16 May (Online)

Hello there,

We are delighted to inform you that BANT's Annual General Meeting (AGM) will take place on Thursday the 16th of May at 6 pm online via Zoom.

We are looking forward to the AGM to showcase some of the work the BANT team has done over the past year, and will continue to build upon, to benefit BANT members.

We will discuss the variety of channels including events, media and political avenues we are using to increase the visibility of BANT members, and the need for preventative healthcare to be part of the national health provision to support the nation to achieve improved wellbeing and avoid spending their retirement managing chronic diseases. As BANT members we have an opportunity to play a bigger part in future healthcare model.

BANT is the largest professional body for nutrition practitioners. As a BANT member, you are recognised as having achieved high standards of education and professional practice to use your skills to support individuals and groups with science-based nutrition and lifestyle medicine recommendations and information. Furthermore, Registered Nutritional Therapy Practitioners are in a PSA accredited register (CNHC) and therefore recognised in NHS guidance as practitioners that have 'the same level of standards... in unregulated health and care occupations as those in statutory regulated professions.' Find out more here.

BANT Directors, Managers and Volunteers are looking forward to meeting you virtually at the AGM. You can email us at agmquestions@bant.org.uk before the 3rd of May 2024 with any questions you wish to have answered at the AGM.

We will also be holding Council elections to ensure our team is at full strength for the year ahead. It is free to attend the AGM, but we ask you to book your place today.
